

Information for bookings with heavy lift and oversize vehicles

Dear Sir or Madam,

thank you very much for your enquiry / booking of a truck loaded with abnormal cargo.

We would like to inform you, that such shipments is subject to special regulations.

- Trucks for the sea transport need to have enough lashing points, so that the truck and the cargo can be assured lashed on the deck for the sea transport.
- At this, the cargo need to be secured on the truck, that the cargo is safe lashed for the sea transport, also during raff and heavy sea.
- Please inform in advance the loading place that your truck doesn't only take the road, but will be transported a part of the distance by sea, so that the cargo can be proper lashed on the truck for the sea transport.
- In some ports the port master decides, if a truck is accepted for the shipment or if the truck is declined for a shipment. For example, if the weight or the construction of the truck would damage the terminal.
- The shipping company subject to change anytime and short the used vessels. In case the shipping line has to change the scheduled vessel and the new vessel in service is not anymore suitable for the enquired weight or or ground clearance a even confirmed booking can be cancelled with very short notice at any time.
- Basically, the master of the ship makes the final decision if the truck is accepted for the shipment or not.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you require any further information.

Kind regards
